

Love your hands, we do™

April 2008

When the going gets tough – let Marigold Industrial® take hold.

The UK's leading hand protection expert, Marigold Industrial®, has further enhanced its highly popular Nitrotough™ range with the launch of N120Y.

Combining tough performance with comfort and flexibility, Nitrotough™ N120Y seamless knit, nitrile glove is ideal for those working in construction, mechanical and maintenance sectors thanks to its high resistance to abrasions.

The non-coated back allows the hands to breathe, whilst the fully nitrile coated palm and fingers provide good levels of protection and grip without hampering dexterity.

The launch of Nitrotough™ N120Y further complements Marigold Industrial's extremely popular Nitrotough™ Range, which is in high usage within the construction sector and is ideal for those undertaking general manual handling tasks where glove performance rather than just high level protection is required.

Available in sizes S-XL, for more information on Nitrotough™ N120Y contact Marigold Industrial Ltd on 0845 075 3355 (LoCall) or email - ukenquiries@marigold-industrial.com
