MARIGOLD® INDUSTRIAL LAUNCHES NEW PRODUCT GUIDE

A brand new and comprehensive 80-page guide providing a wealth of information on its range of market leading Hand & Arm Protection (HAP) products has been launched by Marigold® Industrial.

The new guide contains detailed information on over 100 of Marigold® Industrial's high performance protective gloves and sleeves. To make the selection process simpler, the new guide has been broken down into specific categories such as chemical, cut, mechanical and thermal protection in addition to single use and specialised dry box protection.

Supporting the products is a wealth of background information about the Marigold® Industrial brand, its dedicated approach to product development and manufacturing in addition to guidance on the range of glove materials available and their individual benefits, grip and comfort performance and the EN standards explained.

According to Donald Gillespie of Marigold Industrial Ltd the new guide is far more than just a product catalogue.

"For anyone whose has a responsibility for protecting the hands and arms of workers the new Product Guide is an invaluable resource to help minimize the threat of hand hazards in the workplace.

Love your hands, we do™

"This new guide incorporates information on both our renowned and recently enhanced ranges such as Nitrotough™ in addition to some of our brand new offerings such as the trial of Puretough™ P12, providing specific product and performance data for each. But much more than that, the new guide includes a great deal of support information that will help the HAP selection process.

"Detailed information on the performance of specific glove materials, cuff designs, types of glove finish and how to select the right type of grip for the task being undertaken in addition to the relevant European Standards. We've also produced a pdf and an e-brochure which can be downloaded online" said Donald.
